

Dr. Tim Thabe
Founding Partner and Chairman

Tim is founder and CEO of creditshef and former COO of the international corporate and institutional clients business of UBS. He has more than 10 years of credit risk experience as a senior credit officer and rating advisor for UBS and Goldman Sachs. Tim holds an Executive MBA from Kellogg-WHU, is a CFA charterholder and completed a PhD focusing on credit rating from the University of Mannheim.

Dr. Daniel Bartsch
Founding partner and managing director

Daniel has 15 years of international consulting and banking experience. At creditshef Daniel is responsible for operational business and relationships with customers and business partners. Previously, he held a senior executive position at UBS, managing the institutional distribution of bond and equity products. Professional assignments took him to Zurich and Singapore. Daniel graduated with a degree in business administration from the University of Mannheim and a doctorate from the University of Düsseldorf.

Dr. Mark Währisch
Managing director and Chief Risk Officer

Prior to joining creditshef's risk management team, Mark was Analytical Head at Standard & Poor's for SME ratings and credit research. He has over 17 years of professional experience as a credit and corporate finance expert; before S&P, he worked for Goldman Sachs, Moody's and KPMG in London and Frankfurt. Mark holds a Master of Science degree in Business from the University of Wisconsin, Madison and a PhD in Accounting and Finance from the Goethe University in Frankfurt.